

Cumberland

Many people are drawn to the distinctive shape of our Cumberland. Outside, its ship-like prow makes a bold statement in any setting. Inside, the prow becomes the focal point of a spacious greatroom. Privacy afforded by separating the large master suite from the other bedrooms appeals to many people, making it an ideal floor plan for those who entertain overnight guests, or want some space from the children or other family members. A den attached to the master suite makes an ideal home office or library in an age where more and more people are choosing to "telecommute" from home to work.
